Largemortgageloans.com has appointed Charles Ayton senior partner, as part of the group's expansion strategy.

Ayton will help grow the group's commercial division, and assist with complex high net worth commercial lending cases. This will cover development and mezzanine finance, bridging loans, and large buy-to-let portfolios, in which he is an expert.

Ayton has 27 years' experience at Lloyds Bank and has worked predominantly in the private and commercial banking divisions. Most recently, he led the personal banking business across the UK for the company's high net worth commercial customers.

Paul Welch (pictured), CEO and founder of Largemortgageloans.com, said: "I am delighted to have Charles on board. We have exciting plans in regards to growing our commercial lending base even further, and his added expertise will be key in growing our group to the next level."

He added that the company is actively recruiting and plans on employing further staff over the coming six months.

Largemortgageloans.com also added four new members to its senior management team in mid-October.
